Good Afternoon Task Force,

The small work group tasked with reviewing comments and revising the coordinated response to provide to EPA have completed revision and review of the document. The group did a great job working through all the comments and proposed edits during two, 4 hour meetings held on Tuesday June 2, and Thursday June 4th. .

The group is now seeking full Task Force feedback on the changes. There will be a conference call held tomorrow, Friday June 5th, 2015. The purpose of the conference call is to explain to Task Force members the process the work group used to edit the document, and to identify any changes that a Task Force member would absolutely require before the final draft is sent out on Monday June 8th (in advance of the scheduled SRRTTF phone meeting on Monday June 15th at 10am).

All documents, including the original draft, comments and revisions, and the most current draft of the response are posted on the Task Force Website. There is a very short timeline for completion of the task. In order to approve the document, it must be posted 5 working days before decision can be made. Please note on your calendar, that there will be a Task Force Decision call on Monday June 15 at 10 am to approve the final coordinated response. This requires a quorum of voting members.
